PERIODIC PROGRAMS ON INSTITUTIONAL CODE OF CONDUCT

Orientation Sessions

Comprehensive orientation sessions are conducted for new and returning students at the beginning of each academic year. These sessions cover the institution's code of conduct, emphasizing the values, principles, and expectations that form the foundation of ethical behaviour within the academic community.

Faculty Workshops

Regular workshops are organized for faculty members to reinforce their understanding of the institution's code of conduct and its application in academic and professional settings. These workshops also provide a platform for discussing ethical challenges and best practices.

Interactive Seminars and Panels

CIMAT conducts interactive seminars and panel discussions involving industry experts, academic leaders, and legal professionals. These events focus on real-world ethical dilemmas and provide insights into the practical application of ethical principles in business.

Anonymous Reporting System

Establishment of an anonymous reporting system to encourage the reporting of potential code of conduct violations. This mechanism ensures confidentiality and provides a platform for individuals to raise concerns without fear of reprisal.

Regular Communication

Ongoing communication through various channels, including newsletters, bulletin boards, and digital platforms, reinforces the importance of the code of conduct. Regular reminders and updates help maintain awareness and understanding among the college community.
